LO Workflow Hacks

This document is intended to help loan officers navigate through Path and to walk them through the most common tasks in a typical LO workflow.

In Path, there are two common ways of generating new loan:1) creating a new loan via the New Loan button or 2) importing a new loan from Zip.

Note: The loan officer can enter information on the Quote screen, from which the data will flow to the appropriate sections within the main screens listed below in Figure 1: New loan by manual entry.

To manually create a new loan in Path:

- 1. Go to Loans > Pipeline.
- 2. Click New Loan button.
- 3. Respond to the lightbox(es) and prompt(s).
- 4. Complete all applicable loan information for the Borrower, Property, Product & Pricing, Closing Costs, and Transactions screens.

2. New Loan –Zip Import Overview

Zip Application Process

Zip is a point-of-sale system, which imports loan applications into Path, to be further processed and closed. Via the loan officer's own Zip account/website, borrowers apply for loan applications, and upon completion, the loan applications are imported into Path.

For example, shown below is a loan officer's email signature, containing links to two Zip websites; one leads to the loan officer's own Zip site and the other to the company's main Zip site.

When the borrower clicks on either link, they are led to the Zip landing page of either the loan officer or the company, both of which feature the Get Started button.

Clicking the button leads the borrower to initiate the loan application, where they are prompted to enter loan, property, personal, financial, demographics, and other information.
